

NBCC Announces New Professional Identity Award

NATIONAL CERTIFIED COUNSELOR COUNSELOR EDUCATOR

The National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc. and Affiliates (NBCC), the nation's premier professional counseling certification board, is pleased to announce the NBCC Professional Identity Recognition for Counselor Education Programs. This new national award will be given annually to two counselor education programs for exemplary work in preparing qualified counselors, commitment to professional identity and 100-percent faculty participation as National Certified Counselors.

The first recipients of the NBCC Professional Identity Recognition for Counselor Education Programs will be announced March 15, 2010. Each winning program will receive a commemorative plaque and a one-time $5,000 stipend for faculty and student professional development.

Visit www.nbcc.org/counseloreducators for award qualifications and an official nomination form. The deadline for nominations is January 1, 2010.
